Gallaudet Won and Georgetown Team in Money.

THOUSAND ATHLETES THERE

Varsity Third in Mile Championship. Lawyers Good Second—Rose Broke Shot-Put Record.

PHILADELPHIA, April 23.—The tenth annual relay carnival of the University of Pennsylvania Athletic Association was held on Franklin Field this afternoon in the presence of 15,000 spectators. Nearly 1,000 athletes, representing 200 schools and colleges, including nearly every institution of prominence east of the Rocky Mountains, competed in the different events. While the relay races were the principal features of the meet, the special events brought together the greatest galaxy of individual stars in the history of American college field and track athletics.

Washington's representatives did well in every event in which they competed. In the one-mile championship, the Georgetown varsity four sprung a great surprise by getting third place to Yale and Pennsylvania, easily defeating Harvard and Columbia.

Gallaudet Easy Winner. Gallaudet won its race with consummate ease, while the Georgetown Law School got second to Westminster College in the minor class.

Duffery, of Georgetown, was third in the first trial heat of the 100-yard invitational dash.

Arthur F. Duffey, of Georgetown, the fastest man who ever wore a running shoe, was an interested spectator, but did not compete. His hard season of indoor work made it impossible for him to get into condition to do himself justice in the hard race he would have had to run if he had decided to go against the greatest of the present-day sprinters. In commenting upon the absence of the champion, several Philadelphia papers accused him of being afraid of the contestants, but when the best time in the finals was ten seconds and it is evident that Duffey, with his record of 9.5 seconds, would hardly have been outclassed in today's race.

Beat Harvard and Columbia.

The one-mile championship was the most exciting race of the day. Georgetown, Harvard, Yale, Pennsylvania, and Columbia were represented in this event by their fastest quartets. At the crack of the gun all the runners got off to a start, and at the end of the first 100 yards were more than five yards behind the first and second men. McCarthy, of Georgetown; Long, of Yale, and Cartmell, of Pennsylvania, all gave the crowd their fellow-team mates at the same time. At the second corner Hyman, of Pennsylvania, in attempting to get inside of Edmonston, shoved the Georgetown man, throwing him completely out of the race. The result, suited in the loss of some valuable ground for the Blue and Gray. At the end of the race, the Blue and Gray were with Hyman and Edmonston neck and neck. In giving the touch to Dear, Hyman, of Pennsylvania, the only question between them being which could keep out of last place.

Relly ran well, and at the finish of his quarter mile dash, with Georgetown and Pennsylvania second and third, Harvard and Columbia were hopelessly out of the race, the only question between them being which could keep out of last place.

Third by Eight Yards.

Mulligan, Georgetown's last man, was pitted against Captain Clapp, of Yale, and Taylor, the dusky Pennsylvania runner. The Blue and Gray freshman hung on tenaciously, but at the end of the race and at the finish was about five yards behind the Quaker, who was within three yards of the Yale captain. This quarter was run in the remarkable time of 6:42.5 seconds. Columbia was fourth, with Harvard a poor last, Time, 7:22.5. Gallaudet won.

At the close of the first lap the Washingtonian was second to St. John's College, but after half of the second lap it was only a question of how great would be the distance between the runner and the other four teams. St. John's was second, Delaware College third, Western Maryland fourth, and Franklin and Marshall fifth. At the end of the race, the only question for Gallaudet in the order named.

Law School Second. The Georgetown Law School had position sixth, on the extreme outside, for its race. The race was exciting. From the start the Law School runners and the Westminster College runners were side by side, but toward the close the Westminster men shook off the Law School and won out by about five yards. Allegheny was third, Villa Nova fourth, and Muhlenberg last, Time, 8:29.4.5. Captain Etchison, of St. John's, and Yoder ran for the Law School.

The four-mile intercollegiate relay was won by Michigan, all Harvard, all from Yale. Princeton got into third place by beating out Columbia in this last mile relay. Challenges to Yale and Pennsylvania, were nearly half a lap from the finish at the end of the race.

Rose a Marvel. Rose, of Michigan, made his initial bow before an Eastern audience in the shot put. Although opposed by the foremost of the Eastern missile throwers, the Western phenom had no trouble getting first, as he put the shot 48 feet 2 inches, equaling the world's record, his first try. The intercollegiate mark is 46 feet and the American record was 47 feet 6 inches, set by Yale's star, second, with Boyd, of Pennsylvania, 45 feet 2 inches, which is 1 1/2 inches greater than the record, but as it was not made in regular competition the figures will not stand.

Hahn, of Michigan, the American champion, won the 100-yard sprint in ten seconds flat. Shick, of Harvard, was second, with Blair, of Chicago, third. In the 200-yard race, Hahn was again the victor, but was unable to land a place. Schule, of Michigan, defeated Catlin, of Yale, and Johnson, of Cornell, in the invitation 120 yard hurdle in 15.4 seconds.

GERMAN ATHLETES

AT THE COLUMBIA

Columbia Turn Verein to Give Exhibition.

EVENT TAKES PLACE MAY 1

Will Be Assisted by Baltimoreans and Singing Societies of Washington.

Columbia Turn Verein, of Washington, will give an exhibition of physical culture and gymnastics, combined with a concert, at the Columbia Theater on May 1. The performance will begin promptly at 8 o'clock.

Columbia Turn Verein will be assisted by the Turn Verein "Vorwärts," of Baltimore, and German singing societies of Washington.

Ladies' classes and junior and senior classes will be seen in calisthenic exercises, gymnastics and pyramids.

Plan Successful Exhibition.

The events held by the Columbia Turn Verein in the past have proven most successful, but this year it is planned to eclipse all previous efforts. A large advance sale of tickets has already been consummated, and all other prospects point to the banner exhibition of this popular Washington society. No expense will be spared by the organization in providing the public with high class sport and entertainment, and the Columbia Theater, second, Art and Music, will be properly housed and get a large attendance of the athletic performances and the singers.

Thoney Leads Team For Batting Honors

Average Up to Thursday of .300—Stahl Worst Yet With .052—McCormick and Moran Away Down.

American League records compiled up to and including last Thursday show that Thoney leads the Washington team in batting, with a percentage of an even .300. In 20 times at bat he made 6 hits, 2 of which were doubles. He had to his credit 11 put-outs, 3 assists, and no errors, giving him a fielding average of 1.000.

Townsend and Dunkle had batting averages of .333, but as each had participated in but 1 game, their work cannot be compared with that of the men who played regularly. Seibach follows Thoney in batting, with .285, having 4 singles, 1 double, and 1 triple to his credit. He had also stolen a base. His fielding record was 6 outs and 1 assist, without an error. Coughlin, with 3 singles and 1 double, out of 13 times at bat, got third place, with .236. Kittredge is fourth, with 5 singles out of 19 times at bat, giving him .263. Then comes a fearful fall to McCormick and Moran, each with 4 hits out of 23 times at bat, giving them a sad average of .174. Hoffman was even lower, with 2 hits out of 21 chances, an average of .095.

Stahl was the worst plod in the box with the stick. Out of 19 opportunities to swing the bat he made 1 safety, which brought about the magnificent showing of .052. Drill was the hunt, with no average at all, but played in only one game.

Stahl's fielding in some measure atoned for his batting. He made 54 outs and 4 assists without an error. McCormick made 14 outs and 13 assists, but marred the good work with 2 errors, producing an average of .331. Moran killed 14 men and helped to murder 12 others, but allowed one man to escape, giving him a figure of .553. Coughlin made 5 outs, 4 assists, and no errors, a lovely total of 1.000.
